

Court

The primary mission of the Alaska Court System is:

To provide a fair and impartial forum for the resolution of disputes. Fairness includes the opportunity to be heard, the chance to have the court process explained, and the right to be treated with respect. Impartiality requires that court decisions be based on the law and facts of a given case, not on the political convictions, personal views, or religious beliefs of those involved – or on such factors as a party's race, gender, economic circumstances, or social status.

Mission Critical findings revealed that the following items are NOT critical to the mission of the COURT:

- Commission on Judicial Conduct
- Judicial Council
